Jackson Says Black 'Bullied' Court Says Decree Would Force Men to Work

Cites Black's Role in Coal Dispute

By IRVING DILLIARD
Staff Writer

NURNBERG, June 11—In a public statement to Congress, of a character without precedent in the U. S. Supreme Court's history, Justice Robert H. Jackson has brought the so-called "feud" on the high tribunal into the open with an amazingly frank attack on the "judicial judgment" of one of his colleagues, Justice Hugo L. Black, senior member of the court.

After releasing his criticism of Black in a six-page typewritten statement late last night, Jackson, who is chief U. S. Prosecutor at the International Military Tribunal, left his office today on a trip to Oslo and Stockholm, which had been planned for some time.

Jackson's statement, which contained such bare-handed terms as "bullying" (referring to Black), "declaration of war" (quoting Black) and "the weapons of the open warrior, not those of the stealthy assassin" (Jackson's own words), was issued just four days after President Truman nominated Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson to be the 13th Chief Justice of the United States.

the Supreme Court, Jackson said that he was making his statement because "it is important that the magnitude and nature of the task which faces him shall not be minimized."

Two other purposes in issuing the statement, Jackson said, were "that the attacks upon me during my absence cannot in fairness to my future work on the Court be left unanswered" and "that the responsible committees of Congress are entitled to the facts."

Jackson's statement opened the closed door of the justices' unpublicized conference, at which cases are threshed out, and allowed the public to have a look at their supreme judicial officers when tempers were running high.

He waited until a successor to the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone (Continued on Page 8)

'Feud' Shocks Capital; New Decision

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The nation's capital was shocked today by the disclosure of a dispute between two justices of the Supreme Court—Justice Robert H. Jackson, American chief prosecutor at the Nurnberg trial, and Justice Hugo L. Black.

Meanwhile the court upheld conviction of three major tobacco companies on charges of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The case involved the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co., and the American Tobacco Co. They were fined a total of $255,000 in the U. S. District Court in Lexington, Ky., and the Sixth Federal Circuit Court upheld the conviction.

Justice Harold H. Burton delivered the 6-0 decision. Justices Stanley F. Reed and Jackson did not participate.

Burton said the companies "have been found to have conspired to establish a monopoly and also to have power and intent to establish and maintain a monopoly. To hold that they do not come within the prohibition of the Sherman Act would destroy the act's force."

The Department of Justice contended that its case against the companies showed there was exclusion of competitors.

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—President Truman vetoed the Case Labor Disputes Bill today because he said it would compel men to work for private employers in a peacetime democracy.

In a message to Congress announcing his veto of the controversial measure, the President said that "strikes against private employers cannot be ended by legislative decree. Men cannot be forced in a democracy to work for a private employer under compulsion."

President Truman coupled the veto with a renewed plea for his own emergency strike control plan for Congressional study of the whole field of labor relations and for enactment of his long stalemated domestic legislative program. The measure now comes up for review in Congress which must re-pass the bill with a two-thirds majority to over-ride the Presidential veto.

Explains Decision

The President said he tried to reach his decision objectively "free from emotional strains of the times and free from every consideration except the welfare of our nation and of the world which is so dependent upon our recovery to a full peacetime economy."

"I have not considered it from a standpoint of whether it favors or harms management."

Using dispassionate language, the Chief Executive conceded Congress passed the bill "in sincere belief it would remedy certain existing conditions which cause labor strife and produce domestic turmoil." But, he added, "I cannot agree" with that view.

He called the bill a "false start" on permanent legislation and said it (Continued on Page 8)

Gouin, French Cabinet Resign

Step Will Permit New Government Under MRP

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Socialist President Felix Gouin today tendered his resignation, along with his cabinet, in a constitutional step designed to pave the way for the formation of a new government as the new Constituent Assembly met for the first time.

"The resigning government will assure, according to custom, the handling of current affairs," Gouin said in his letter to Communist Deputy Marcel Cachin, 76, who by virtue of being the oldest legislator presided over the new legislature's first session.

Meantime, the MRP Party pledged itself today to a policy of limited wage increases for French workers if its candidate for president of the new government, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, is elected.

The party's parliamentary group today endorsed Bidault's candidacy, which was voted last night by the party's directorate.

To assure each Frenchmen "a purchasing power that will guarantee him the vital minimum" the party announced it will support an increase of family allowances, salaries and pensions "for less favored categories."

Nylons on Sale in Nurnberg

Special to The Stars and Stripes
NURNBERG, June 11—Nylon hose, those almost unobtainable items of feminine apparel, are now on sale at the Nurnberg officers' sales store, according to 2/Lt. Wilbert J. Robinson, manager. The nylons will be rationed to Army nurses only through Saturday. After that anyone holding a clothing ration card can purchase them.

Straight Air Lanes Granted For U.S. Planes in Red Zone

VIENNA, June 11 (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of U. S. forces in Austria, reported to the joint chiefs of staff in Washington today that Russian authorities have agreed to the establishment of straight air lanes over Soviet-controlled territory between Vienna, Linz, Budapest and Prague, eliminating some of the flying difficulties which resulted in the buzzing of American planes by Russian fighter pilots.

The Russians still have not granted freedom to the air requested by American authorities and flights over Soviet territory must be made within narrow prescribed lanes. In flying from Vienna to Berlin it is still necessary to fly via Frankfurt and the flight to Belgrade is equally circuitous.

Clark reported that the new straight line routes granted by the Russians would "greatly facilitate air communications."

Clark in his monthly report also cited the reduction in occupation costs for the Austrian government as one of the significant accomplishments.

Late Bulletins

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, Secretary of State, said today that the United States is preparing to discuss with Great Britain what military forces America might make available to maintain order in Palestine during the increased Jewish immigration.

(Byrnes also told the press today another failure at Paris would mean a defeat for mankind, the United Press reported.)

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—The House passed today and sent to the Senate a bill granting terminal leave pay for some 15,000,000 servicemen of World War II.

The measure, estimated to cost $3,000,000,000 would grant terminal pay at the rate of two and one half days pay for each month service up to a maximum of 120 days.

Tojo Will Assume Responsibility for War, Lawyer Says

TOKYO, June 11 (AP)—Gen. Hideki Tojo's lawyer said today that the former premier would assume full responsibility for starting the Pacific war when he comes before the Allied Military Tribunal.

He added that Tojo would argue that international custom gives Emperor Hirohito immunity, since no sovereign in history has ever been indicted.

The attorney said Tojo and 25 others who will be tried with him, would contend they were exempt from that portion of the Potsdam declaration against those who misled their people into embarking "on a world conquest."

"Tojo always has said the war was one of defense and not one of conquest," the attorney explained. "Of course, the Japanese government has acknowledged that it was an aggressive war. The opinion of the defense is different from that of the government."

Woman Killed Where King Died

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—A woman walking in Whitehall with her two children last night was killed by a falling piece of roof coping on the spot where Charles I was executed.

Revision Seen In Army Rules

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—Changes in Army regulations, based upon findings in Lt. Gen. James S. Doolittle's committee report on the so-called caste system, will be announced soon by Robert P. Patterson, Secretary of War, reliable sources said here today.

Patterson has been studying Doolittle's recommendations for remedying abuses resulting from the Army structure since last May 20.

He was said to have considered most of the committee's suggestions as sound and to have agreed that there were inadequacies in the Army system which could be remedied.

Patterson has emphasized that he will not take any action that would lead to a breakdown of Army discipline, or would threaten it.

France Gets Europa As War Reparations

FRANKFURT, June 11 (AP)—The captured German liner Europa, which made one voyage to New York as an American troopship, has been turned over to the French government as war reparations, the U. S. Navy announced from Bremerhaven.

A French crew, under Capt. Pierre Lescarret, replaced the American crew on Saturday, and will sail the vessel to Cherbourg early next week.

The Europa, largest naval prize of the war, goes to France under an international Allied reparations agreement reached in Brussels on May 28, the announcement added.

Use of the Europa as a troopship was discontinued as it did not meet U. S. Navy safety standards.

What to Do With Gems Puzzles Army

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Melodramatic recovery of the $1,500,000 Hessian crown jewel developed into a couple of headaches for the War Department.

Number one was what should be done with the treasure trove of gems and priceless heirlooms.

Number two was the question of the first military trial for such high stakes in Army history.

Decision number one was of prime importance to the royal family of Hesse. And decision number two was even more vital for Col. Jack W. Durant, his Wac captain wife and Maj. David F. Watson, all in army custody for alleged participation in the bizarre "liberation" of the jewel hoard from the Rhineland castle.

Disposition of the jewels constitutes the knotty problem, War Department officials reported, with no decision yet reached.

It is for American military legal experts in the European Theater, they said, to determine whether the Hesse family treasure represents "public property" or is the personal property of members of the family.

Col. A. C. Miller, of the Provost Marshal office, said should it be established that the trove is personal property, the "presumption" was that it would be restored to the family.

However, if the treasure is ruled "state property" or "public property" under the Army's Articles of War it would become the property of the U. S. for the castle lies in the American zone.

Miller said formal charges were being drafted in Frankfurt against the trio now in custody.

Allies and Austria Study New Leftist Czech Regime

VIENNA, June 11 (INS)—The results of the Czechoslovakian elections are considered here to be of such importance to the future of Austria that government officials as well as Allied authorities are anxiously waiting to see how far-reaching the practical effects of the left wing Czech victory will be.

Some high-placed Austrian government circles go so far as to say that the Czech vote may spell the beginning of the end of any Austrian westward orientation. Up until now, Czechoslovakia had been regarded by informed American observers as a balancing wheel between West and East. If, however, the polling tipped the scales definitely eastward, Austria would be in a geographical pincers between Soviet-influenced Yugoslavia and Soviet-influenced Czechoslovakia.

Americans at this early date are reluctant to venture an opinion as to whether the future implications are more than a matter of geography. But sources close to the problem admit the probability that such Russian political reinforcement to the north may make diplomatic negotiating more difficult at the Allied Council table in Vienna.

Austrians, whose present government has been leaning more heavily on the Western Democracies, feel they may now have to turn with their neighbors to Russia as chief patron. Austria for survival needs to trade with her neighbors. If political pressure should be brought on economic matters, Austria may have to face as the rest of South-eastern Europe, in the opinion even of present government sources.

Barter Breaks Down

Seeking straws in the wind, Austrians remember that Communist newspapers in Czechoslovakia have not been friendly to the government in Vienna. And even before the elections, Austrians maintain, the Czechs did not always meet them fairly on attempts at economic exchanges.

According to an authoritative Austrian source, for example, terms were recently reached for the barter of two carloads of Czech coal for one carload of Austrian iron ore. Negotiations had to be dropped, the Austrians complain, when the Czechs suddenly refused to exchange more than a carload and a half of coal for the carload of ore.

Informed quarters, in any case, are predicting that the Czech vote will enable Austrian left-wing parties to force another general election here earlier than hitherto anticipated and pile up a larger vote for the left.

Bears Hate Castor Oil, Too

CLEVELAND, June 11 (UP)—Silver, the polar bear at the Cleveland zoo, went on the sick list recently. Illness made her too ferocious to be fed castor oil from a spoon, or a shovel either. Finally, zoo keepers doused her snouts with the castor oil, and she got her medicine when she licked them clean.

Millions May Wear Clothes Made From 'Ardil,' Peanut Fibre

LONDON, June 11 (INS)—Millions of people throughout the world will be able to wear suits and coats made of a new wool-like fibre obtained from peanuts.

This new material is the result of research over a 10-year period by two British scientists who have extracted from peanuts a protein for a warm, non-shrinkable, non-creasable fibre which—it is claimed—does not attract moths.

Protein Called Ardil

The two scientists are Dr. E. R. Slade, research controller of the British Imperial Chemical Industries, and Dr. C. Trail, also of I.C.I., who for the last five years has been in charge of the development of the new discovery.

"Ardil" is the name given to the vegetable protein because it originated at the I.C.I. plant at Ardeer, Ayrshire, Scotland.

In collaboration with British spinners, weavers, dyers and cloth manufacturers of Lancashire and Yorkshire, the two I.C.I. scientists have produced a variety of materials which can be put to all purposes.

Suits, coats and children's clothing made from mixtures of the new fibre with cotton as an experiment, may be worn for between two and four years.

World Needs Wool

"Importance of this development in British textiles is enormous," said Dr. Trail. "There is not enough wool to go around the world."

From one ton of ground nuts, about 500 pounds of Ardil fibre can be produced.

"As the British Empire is the greatest producer of these nuts, it is obvious that this is an outstanding development," Dr. Trail pointed out.

The new fibre, it was emphasized, is not a synthetic wool, but is as warm as wool and has almost all its qualities.

The British scientists are sure that it may soon be possible to produce startling new material from it.

"It opens up new vistas for the use of rayon, which it can make into a warmer, more beautiful and more durable material," added Dr. Trail.

HOW YOU EAT IN WORLD OF WANT

A glance at this chart, compiled from information obtained from UNRRA and other relief associations, shows that the people of the United States are the only ones in the world who today have more to eat than in the pre-war era. According to results of recent surveys, there are more than 4,000,000 persons now existing on famine-level rations.

Army Honors Chow Planner

NEW YORK, June 11 (INS)—From a $5-a-week elevator operator to chairman of the board of one of the nation's leading hotel chains—that is the success story of John L. Hennessy, of New York.

Hennessy, who started as a freight elevator operator in a Buffalo hotel, recently was presented the War Department's highest civilian award—the Exceptional Civilian Service Citation—for his contribution to the morale and welfare of the American soldier.

During the war years, Hennessy was food consultant to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, and initiated the Army's now-famed 14-day menus. He also trained and guided Army cooks.

Gen. Brehon Somervell, recently appointed president of Koppers Co., named Hennessy to set up the Army's redistribution program.

Hennessy, remembering the days he was pushed around as an elevator operator, set to work and leased 50 of the country's finest resort hotels from Florida to California.

At these resorts, soldiers fresh from combat and committed to other combat zones were given two weeks of relaxation. It meant a chance to swim, play golf, or tennis or just loaf and pay no attention to Army regulations.

Unfair to Kids

BOSTON, June 11 (UP)—A curious, well-dressed woman, taking no chances on missing out on a butter or nylon line, followed a group of youngsters in a store. Inside, she drew scores of hostile stares and finally one moppet piped up:

"Hey, lady, it's not fair for grown-ups to be bustin' in here—this is a bubble-gum line."

Shark Hunts Yield Rich Kill as British Adopt New Industry

LONDON, June 11 (INS)—Britain is going in for commercial shark hunting now—for the oil.

Basking sharks infesting the waters of Loch Fyne, Kilbrannan Sound and the Firth of Clyde during the summer are expected to maintain a lucrative oil industry.

Hunt Under Way

Anthony Watkins, brother of the late Gina Watkins, the Arctic and Antarctic explorer, has already started shark hunting from Campbeltown, Scotland. His men recently landed a 28-foot shark and when the liver of this shark is boiled it is expected to produce three 40-gallon casks of oil.

Watkins is a former Londoner and recently was released from the Army. He was a major in the Coldstream Guards during the war. Today he is managing director of the Scottish West Coast Fishery.

Watkins has set his men a goal of 50 to 60 sharks a week which should net 6,000 to 7,000 gallons of oil.

Three fishing boats have been armed with harpoon guns for the shark hunting. There is also a factory ship assigned to the new industry.

GI Swiss-Tour Conduct Sets Highest Standard

Special to The Stars and Stripes

BERNE, June 11—A record for behavior unparalleled in Europe has been established by American soldiers on leave to Switzerland, where only 13 incidents have been reported between the 250,000 plus GIs and Swiss civilians.

This high standard of conduct makes good the trite saying "ambassadors of Democracy."

In Switzerland, U. S. soldiers are free of all supervision and control. For all practical purposes, they are their own bosses and the long hand of the Army cannot reach them directly.

When tours to Switzerland were first proposed last year, American consular and diplomatic officials stationed here were extremely uneasy about the program. They feared that the combat-hardened men might play a little too rough in this country that has known no war nor practical soldiering for generations.

Re: American Wife

EDITOR'S NOTE: "An American Wife," who criticized officers' conduct, didn't get much support from the intended benefactors. Quite the reverse. Here is some of the response:

Of course "An American Wife" was just shooting off her mouth, but doesn't she realize she lost her self-respect along with her remark?

If some of the wives who continually shoot off their mouths could only know how we husbands abhor listening to their lack of good sense and refinement, they might confine their thoughts to themselves.

I always assume that these same wives were 10-cent dance partners in the States, and got some second lieutenant drunk enough to marry them. But please, gals, have a little respect for the reputation of the other wives here.

—Capt., USFET.

This "American Wife" is certainly a poor representation of the womanhood she would have us respect. I am certain some officer who has been in combat will appreciate her kindly advice, and stop having a few evenings of pleasurable dancing.

Being an American woman does not in itself demand respect. I would advise her to secure an orientation from a Red Cross girl who has been over here a darned sight longer, and from whom I have never heard a "beef."

—Lt., 9th Div.

It is of interest to note "An American Wife" in B Bag. What an ideal outlet for those pent-up frustrations of months of fireside sitting.

Should she not be exultant in her regained throne—exultant that she may add to the ignominy of defeat by forcing into disregard the affections of some poor, understanding, and in many instances, lovely fraulein? We do respect our American women, but only when they act like Americans.

—Capt., Engineers.

The men who take their frauleins to the clubs are probably single, and haven't anyone else to go with. If "An American Wife" doesn't like rubbing shoulders with them, why doesn't she stay home. If it hadn't been for some of the waiters and bartenders, she might be sitting in a club with some of the Jerries, and having the frauleins commenting about her. But I'm an EM and I don't belong in this fight.

—S/ Sgt., 12th Const. Sqdn.

I was a bartender, my father was a bartender, and my father's father was a bartender. In defense of all honorable bartenders I resent the implication that members of our profession are immoral. The bartender's uniform is recognized and respected. Don't bite the hand that mixes your drink.

—Combat Bartender (Lt.)

Dog Tags Useful

This is a plea to all reckless drivers, and those soldiers who carry firearms—loaded and "unloaded." Please wear your dog tags at all times.

When you are picked up somewhere, and brought in dead or dying, we have a heck of a time getting Graves Registration to accept your unidentified bodies.

—P. G., 385 Sta. Hosp.

"But I assure you, sirs, these are skiing medals!"

Palestine Terrorists Sabotage Railroads

Police, Troops Hunt Gangs After $100,000 Damage

JERUSALEM, June 11 (UP)—Police and troops are searching for members of the Stern gang and the Irgun Zvai Leumi—the Jewish terrorist organization—who did an estimated $100,000 worth of damage in widespread sabotage attacks against Palestine railways yesterday.

One Arab policeman has since died of injuries received in the attacks, and two others were wounded. In Jerusalem it is believed that the attacks were timed to coincide with the news of the arrival of the former Grand Mufti in the Middle East.

Planes Dropped Flares

Late last night, low-flying aircraft were illuminating the area with flares while army units combed villages for terrorists. Seven suspects have been arrested. Ten coaches were destroyed by fire in attacks on three trains. Terrorists on each train pulled the communications cord and stopped the train, and were immediately joined by about 30 other saboteurs.

One passenger train running from Jerusalem to Jaffa was held up, its engine uncoupled, and driven over a land mine placed on the tracks. Passengers were taken off the train, which was then set ablaze.

Demonstrations took place in Jaffa after the news that the Grand Mufti had returned was announced from Cairo, and people danced and sang in the streets, carrying huge portraits of the Mufti. The whole town was quickly bedecked in flags.

ARABS TO DEMAND SEAT IN TALKS ON LIBYA

BLUDAN, June 11 (UP)—After a meeting of the Arab League council here last night, the secretary general, Azzam Pasha, said the league would demand from the Big Four the right to be present at any inquiry into Libya. The demand will be sent to Moscow, London, Washington and Paris.

Reports Peace In North Iran

TEHERAN, June 11 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that the Azerbaijan problem had been "settled on the basis of Premier Qavam es Sultaneh's seven-point program."

The spokesman said that the settlement had been reached through a series of cables and letters and secret conversations between the commissions here and at Tabriz.

The Azerbaijan army and the Fedai (Peoples' Warriors) would be taken into the Iranian army and the gendarmerie, he said, and Jafar Pishevari would become governor-general of the province by appointment from Teheran.

The spokesman denied rumors that Pishevari would be given the portfolio of Minister of the Interior, now held by Qavam es Sultaneh.

British, Egyptians Clash in Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, June 11 (AP)—One British soldier was injured last night in a fight with Egyptians after three grenades were thrown from a car at British soldiers.

Only one grenade exploded, and none of the British soldiers were injured. Egyptians, thinking the injured. Egyptians, thinking the soldiers, attacked them and injured one man.

Mihailovich Says 'I Don't Feel Guilty'

BELGRADE, June 11 (AP)—The president of the court tried today to get a direct reply to the demand whether Gen. Draja Mihailovich wished to plead guilty or not guilty, but the Chetnik leader merely repeated, "I do not feel guilty."

There was a stinging tone of rebuke in Mihailovich's voice when

BELGRADE, June 11 (AP) The return of Marshall Tito from Moscow pushed the Mihailovich trial off the front pages of all Belgrade morning papers, with full play being given in Tanjug to the announcement of the Soviet agreement to furnish war equipment to the Yugoslav army.

The announcement sidetracked what most observers here considered the most important question concerning Tito's Moscow talks, whether any joint decision had been made on possible action in connection with Yugoslavia's demands for Trieste.

he said in answer to a question: "The charge, which was handed to me only a week ago, has many points in it..."

"You must answer briefly," the president said sharply.

Defendant Interrupts

A moment later, Mihailovich himself interrupted in the midst of a lengthy question to say irrelevantly: "I was the first insurgent in Europe."

When the court tried to pin him down on the question of whether he had organized the Chetniks, Mihailovich insisted that he had organized an army to fight the invaders.

"The name came from the people and not from me... the army grew out of nothing," he said.

With a quiet "yes," Mihailovich admitted reaching agreement with the partisans in 1941 not to attack each other.

He revealed that after Russia entered the war he "discussed problems with them" for a few days. Asked what conversations took place, he said the question of mutual aid was discussed, but added, "I thought the partisans wanted to go too fast."

Approached by Allies

Mihailovich disclosed that shortly after his pact with the partisans in 1941, Allied liaison officers arrived from the Middle East, bringing a message from the former Yugoslav minister of war. He did not disclose what the message was, merely saying it was "very brief."

A British liaison officer also brought a message from Cairo, he said.

This message, according to Mihailovich, said that the Middle East command considered that the partisans should fight for Yugoslavia, not for the Communist cause of Soviet Russia.

Jews and Arabs Friendly in Business

Although enmity exists between Arab and Jewish extremists on both sides, the ordinary people get along about as well as do the mixed races and religions of New York. At the left, a Jewish vendor is selling fistukes (ground nuts) to an Arab, while at the right an Arab merchant and his Jewish customer decide how many bananas make a kilo-weight. The merchant also sells cigarettes.

Arabs Awaiting Mufti's Arrival In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, June 11 (AP)—Inspired by unconfirmed rumors here that the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem has arrived in Damascus, Arab flags, garlands of flowers and olive branches decorated most of the narrow winding streets of the old city of Jerusalem.

All Arabs were saying with conviction, "he will be coming to Jerusalem in a few days" although the chairman of the Arab higher committee, Jamal Hisseini, was unable to confirm the reports.

The Paris newspaper Le Monde, however, reported that the Mufti had gone to Calais June 5 and sailed for England. According to the Paris story, he then took a plane to the Middle East.

Edouard Sablier, who wrote the French newspaper article, said that the Mufti had joined the train of King Feisal of Iraq from Paris to Calais and had boarded the destroyer with the entourage.

Sablier reported another rumor that a plane left Paris on Friday night carrying several persons to the Middle East.

Without attempting to confirm either story, Sablier said that in any event, it appeared that no one in Paris or London wanted to oppose the Mufti's leaving.

U. S. TO CHECK RUMOR MUFTI USED ATC PLANE

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The State Department said today that it would investigate reports that the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem travelled part of the distance from France to Syria in a United States ATC plane.

Leica Owners Can Buy Camera Accessories

The Stars and Stripes Bureau FRANKFURT, June 11—Accessory sets for Leica cameras are now available in limited quantities for Leica owners who are able to present the camera and proof of its ownership at PX stores, Army Exchange Service announced today.

Serial numbers of the Leicas will be registered and a statement signed that the owner possesses no previous accessory sets.

Killed German, Yank Gets Life

HEIDELBERG, June 11 (AP)—Charged with murdering a German civilian he had arrested, Sgt. John S. Melia, of Arlington, Va., has been sentenced to life imprisonment by an Army court martial, 3rd Army headquarters announced today.

Melia, a trooper of the U. S. Constabulary—the new occupation police—was found guilty of beating Johann Yager on the head with the butt of a pistol and leaving him dying on a roadside.

The German, picked up by Melia for lack of proper identification, died in a German hospital after he had lain all night on the highway.

Spanish Workers' Leaflet Calls British Policy 'Aid to Franco'

MADRID, June 11 (AP)—The Spanish CNT—the National Confederation of Workers—in a printed leaflet distributed clandestinely early today, charged that Britain's present policy toward Spain has aided the Franco regime, and appealed to the workers of the world to continue their efforts for more decisive action of their governments toward the present Spanish government. The leaflet was signed by the national committee of the CNT,

Siamese Mourn As King's Body Lies in State

BANGKOK, June 11 (AP)—AM Siam is mourning the death of the young King Ananda whose body lay in state today in the magnificent Dusit Hall of Kings.

After the traditional Buddhist funeral ceremonies, the body of the king will be kept in a golden urn for about a hundred days before final cremation.

The government has decreed that the Siamese nation shall go into mourning for one year. Flags will fly at half mast for 30 days and all places of amusement were closed today.

Gun was Colt .45

The leaders of the national parliament have renamed Pridi Phanomyong as prime minister and a new government will be formed in a few days.

The 18-year-old new King Phumiphon received a council of three regents and the prime minister, who informed him of his succession to the throne.

It was learned on high authority here that the gun which killed King Ananda in what was officially described as "an accident" was a Colt .45 automatic.

which, supporters say, has more than a million members and is the strongest organization in Spain.

Franco, said the leaflet, was doing all he could to get the protection of England. The leaflet charged that Britain continued to delay the Generalissimo's downfall because it considers him a lesser evil and fears the dominance of communism in Spain.

England erred in two ways, it said:

IN NOT RECOGNIZING that those who fought against fascism could not be denied the fruits of victory.

IN OVERESTIMATING the strength of Communists in Spain.

The CNT appealed to workers of the world for isolation of Spanish Fascism.

OPA Measure Faces Drastic Senate Changes

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The future of the OPA took on new uncertainty today with lawmakers of both parties freely predicting that the Senate would vote drastic changes in a proposed bill to extend price controls beyond June 30.

The legislation, already heavily amended by the Banking Committee, reached the jump-off spot on the Senate's calendar, evidently facing even harsher treatment on the floor.

The bill came in for heavy criticism from stabilization officials and from the four-member minority of the banking committee, which included Chairman Robert F. Wagner (D.-N.Y.). Wagner declared in a minority report that adoption of the committee bill would write the "death sentence for effective price, wage and rent stabilization."

One-Year Extension

The measure proposes extending price control one year to June 30, 1947, but with powers of the price administrator considerably trimmed.

Meat, poultry, and dairy products would come out from under price ceilings by the end of the month. Subsidies would be cut from $2,000,000,000 to $1,100,000,000, and payment of food subsidies would be forbidden after May 1.

The Secretary of Agriculture would be given authority to say what farm commodities were in short supply and could be controlled. An independent control board could over-rule the price administrator when he denied industry appeals for lifting of controls on specific items.

Dealers in automobiles, radios, household appliances and similar goods, scarce during war, would have to be allowed their prewar discounts and markups.

Bradley Sees 4,000,000 Vets Without Jobs

ATLANTIC CITY, June 11 (AP)—Gen. Omar W. Bradley said 4,000,000 veterans would be unemployed next fall unless new jobs continue to be created.

In an address at the 31st annual convention of the Kiwanis International, Bradley gave these veterans statistics:

Nine million were "on vacation," having no jobs and not seeking any for the time being.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand had been enrolled in schools and on job training, and 1,750,000 were drawing readjustment allowances.

He said 250,000 students veterans would find no room in first choice schools to which they would apply.

"It is time we stopped indulging in the sacrifices of veterans and worked harder, instead, to fulfill their wants. It is time we took stock on the promises we made while they were still overseas."

Reynolds New Head Of Special Services

Stassen Stakes Chips In Nebraska Primary

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen put the chips down Tuesday in a Nebraska Senatorial primary which can inflate or puncture his chances for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

The former Minnesota governor is actively backing one of his old colleagues, Gov. Dwight Griswold, who is seeking to wrest the GOP Senatorial nomination from the one-term incumbent, Hugh Butler.

The question of future handling of foreign affairs bulked large in the campaign.

To political observers the situation is somewhat akin to the 1944 foray of the late Wendell Willkie, himself then a presidential candidate. The licking he took in Wisconsin killed his nomination hopes.

Stassen risks only a slightly lesser degree of prestige in Nebraska.

Like Willkie, Stassen has aided in drawing the lines for the contest on international issues with six Nebraska speeches for Griswold.

Butler, favored over his opponent in a party convention by a 228-163 vote, has cited opposition to the British loan as indicative of his international view-point. Griswold supported the loan.

If Griswold wins it probably means, in addition to a prestige boost, that Stassen may have a chance of getting Nebraska's 15 votes in the 1948 Republican convention. This could be significant for the state has a large German-American vote. If Butler wins Stassen gets a political blackeye.

GOP IN MIDWEST STATES GIVES SUPPORT TO REECE

SYLVAN LAKE, S. D., June 11 (AP)—Republican state chairmen from 12 midwest states pledged "sincere support" for National Chairman Carroll Reece after Reece told them: "The PAC with its $6,000,000 campaign fund is the force we have to beat."

A policy statement issued by the chairman after the session declared: "The Democratic party has fallen into the hands of a Red reactionary group as evidenced by its surrender to the dictation of PAC."

Senate Group Hears 36th Div.

Heading the group to voice objections to the nomination of Clark to the permanent rank of major general is Miller Ainsworth, former colonel, of Luling, Texas, and president of the 36th Div. Association.

Confirmation of the nomination of 35 other general officers has been held up for months, in committee, because of the association's request to protest Clark's promotion.

Francis Again Faces Death Chair Ordeal

BATON ROUGE, La., June 11 (AP)—A new death warrant ordering Willie Francis to the electric chair for the second time will be issued when official notice is received that the U. S. Supreme Court refused to intervene, George Wallace, executive counsel to Gov. Jimmie Davis, said.

The 18-year-old Negro escaped death when the electric chair failed to function five weeks ago.

Francis already appealed unsuccessfully to the State Supreme Court and State Pardon Board.

Intelligence Chief Named

Senate Votes Reorganization And Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Senate has passed legislation to reorganize the machinery of Congress, to provide additional professional aides, and give members a 50 per cent pay boost to $15,000 a year.

The measure would permit members at their own discretion to qualify for government pensions and would require registration of Lobbyists.

Fate in House Uncertain

The measure faces an uncertain fate in the House, where the pay increase has less appeal than in the Senate. House members receive a tax-free $2,500 expense allowance in addition to a $10,000 yearly salary.

To clear the way for Senate action on the bill, sponsor Robert M. La Follette Jr. (Prog.-Wis.), had to drop a proposal to end the time-honored patronage system of dispensing capital jobs and put in a Civil service plan.

The bill would telescope the Senate's present 33 committees into 15 major groups, with most Senators limited to membership on only two committees instead of the six to 10 on which they now serve.

Special investigating committees would be banned in the future. Each senator would be given an administrative assistant to do non-legislative work and each committee would hire four experts.

Thunder Drives Saipan Vet to Kill Himself

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—Fear born of the rolling thunder of big guns that brought death on Saipan in 1944 took a fresh grip on the mind of a former Pittsburgh Marine corporal in the weekend's booming thunderstorms—and cost him his life.

Roy E. De Laplaine Jr., of suburban Wilkinsburg was with his friend Eve Shivers when he clasped his hands over his ears at a loud clap of thunder and shouted: "I can't stand it."

Miss Shivers said, "Then suddenly he just bolted from me." With her mother, the girl taxied to the home of the 20-year-old ex-marine.

"He was standing near the stairs holding a pistol," Miss Shivers said. "We tried to reason with him, but he paid no attention. Suddenly he told us to get out."

The two women left to get help, but on the sidewalk they heard a shot.

De Laplaine had put a bullet through his head.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., June 11 (UP)—"Osaka, Japan? . . . I've a trans-Pacific call from Fairmont, W. Va., for Lt. James A. Herbert of the United States Army . . . Go ahead Fairmont."

Such was the prelude to the long-distance telephone marriage ceremony of Herbert to Miss Alice Williams Darquenne on the Fairmont end of the wire. Rev. John W. Hollister performed the ceremony.

The telephone ceremony was the climax to a romance of many years. Alice had sought the necessary papers to go to Japan, where she planned a real church wedding. Herbert, with the occupation forces in Japan, couldn't obtain a leave in order to return home.

U.S. Lifts Veil On Stovepipe, New Jet Plane

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—War-time secrecy on the "Flying Stovepipe," jet-propelled plane capable of 1,400 miles per hour, was lifted today by the Navy.

The "Flying Stovepipe" has a ram-jet engine originally designed to propel guided missiles. A closely guarded war development, it was intended for use as a supersonic missile to combat Japanese suicide planes and expected baka-bomb attacks. The war ended before it could be put into practical use.

The aircraft was flown successfully at speeds over 1,400 miles per hour in tests two months before Japan surrendered.

Available for Cruising

While its war-time purpose was never utilized, the Navy said it is possible that the "Flying Stovepipes" may be used in the future for high-speed cruising by aircraft equipped with other forms of propulsion.

The Stovepipe gets its name from the fact that it consists essentially of an open pipe. It represents the next step beyond the jet motors used to propel the German V-1 and V-2 bombs.

The open pipe has an injection nozzle that scoops in oxygen from the air during flight. The air is condensed by the speed of the jet, which heats it in a combustion chamber and expels it through the rear opening with a thrust or "ram."

It eliminates the need for the complicated turbine and compressor used in turbo-jet devices such as the V2 bomb.

Engine Under 70 Pounds

The complete engine weighs less than 70 pounds. This is less than one-half ounce per unit of horsepower, as compared with one pound per horsepower in conventional types.

Since the ram-jet engines have no moving parts, they can be produced quickly and cheaply. No precision work is required.

The Navy said that one disadvantage of the new engine is that it must attain a high speed of about 300 miles per hour by other means before the ram-jet will work efficiently. A catapult or auxiliary rockets are needed to give it this initial speed.

The idea of the ram-jet was first set forth by a French scientist named Lorin in 1913. At that time, however, "high speed" meant about 40 miles per hour.

House Delays Report on Reds

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—A row in the House Foreign Affairs Committee is holding up publication of a critical report of Russia's policies in dealing with her neighbor nations behind the "iron curtain."

The report, by a four-member sub-committee which toured Europe last fall, should have been made public last week.

But because of sections which condemn Soviet activity in Poland and the Balkans, plus Iran, administration supporters in the committee are urging a change in language before its release.

Some of these members even said "undiplomatic references" to Russia made them favor indefinite suppression of the report. One portion of the report, a committee-connected official reported privately, is highly critical of the Moscow-blessed regime of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

Beware of a Soft Desk Job— It Can Be Full of Hard Knocks

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Stay away from that typewriter, kiddies—it's a dangerous instrument. And don't plan to grow up a Government worker. It's a dangerous profession.

These conclusions were arrived at after study of a departmental memorandum issued by John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator. The study has been completed, Small continued, involving 12,215 Government workers. Within a year, he said, they had 1,483 accidents.

"This fact becomes all the more significant," sighed Small, "when we consider that a large percentage of Government work is in office and other low-hazard occupations."

Indeed it does. And in case you can't figure out how these desk drudges get themselves mangled, here's the sad statistical story: 134 stuck staples in their fingers, 87 got "puncture wounds" from pens and pencils, 122 just plain old fashioned fell down, 124 walked into a wall or into a door or stray furniture, 220 cut themselves on, of all things, paper, 99 inquisitive souls stuck their fingers into typewriters, desk drawers and doors and promptly mashed same.

There was no explanation of what happened to the other 687 injured, but undoubtedly it was something just as gruesome.

Small says let's all be more careful, and it seems like a good idea at that.

In the meantime, put down that typewriter. It may be loaded.

Czechs Journey To Lidice Scene

PRAGUE, June 11 (AP)—Czechoslovaks made a national pilgrimage to Lidice yesterday—the fourth anniversary of the day when the Nazis began wiping the village from the map in a crime that horrified the world.

The Nazis, in retaliation for the assassination of Reinhard Heydrich, slaughtered all men in the mining town, sent the women to concentration camps and sent the children all over the Reich.

They fired all buildings, removed a hill, chopped down trees and diverted a brook, so that even the landscape would be changed. A memorial will be built on the site by the Allies, in tribute to the families who suffered on the side of democracy.

British and American sources together have raised $ 2,000,000. The British contribution, donated by miners, will be used to erect a mining research institute and 170 homes.

Johnson, Ex-Ring Champ, Killed in Auto Accident

RALEIGH, N. C., June 11 (AP)—Jack Johnson, the first Negro ever to become heavyweight boxing champion of the world, died at Saint Agnes Hospital here following an automobile accident early this afternoon near Franklinton.

Dr. W. D. Allison said Johnson, 68, died of internal injuries and shock. Fred L. Scott, his Negro companion, said he was accompanying the former champion to New York from Texas, where Johnson recently concluded a personal appearance tour.

Johnson, christened John Arthur Johnson and known to his pals as "Li'l Artha," won the title when he stopped Tommy Burns, of Canada, in 14 rounds at Sidney, Australia, on Dec. 26, 1908, and lost it to Jess Willard at Havana, Cuba, on April 16, 1915.

His ring career lasted 29 years and covered 109 major fights and exhibitions—two of which probably never will be forgotten.

A fine defensive boxer, Johnson was classified by many experts as one of the greatest fighters in ring history.

During 1909 Johnson defended his title five times but clamor for a "white hope" gained such momentum that Jeffries, five years out of the ring, signed to meet him. Tex Rickard promoted the fight, which became his springboard to fame.

Jeffries worked himself down from 260 to 230 pounds, but Johnson battered him so badly that the knockout in the 15th round was actually a merciful escape.

Johnson's loss of the title to Willard five years later created a controversy which never ceased to be a source of argument.

After absorbing terrific punishment, Willard won by a knockout in the 26th round. Pictures of the fight, however, showed that the Negro was apparently shading his eyes from the Cuban sun with his gloved hand as referee Jack Curley counted him out.

Braves Buy Litwhiler

CINCINNATI, June 11 (INS)—The Boston Braves have acquired outfielder Danny Litwhiler from the St. Louis Cardinals in a straight cash deal. Litwhiler is the sixth player to be taken from the Cardinals by the Braves since Billy Southworth switched from St. Louis to Boston as manager.

Hogan, Nelson Favored in National Open

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—The nation's "circuit" golfers, boys who have been competing in tournaments almost every week since long in the winter, began making Cleveland a port of call and this time it was in quest of the biggest title of all—the National Open championship.

Among those who arrived were Bryon Nelson, National PGA champion and rated with Ben Hogan as top favorite to oust Craig Wood from the throne.

On hand and getting in practice swings were such players as Gene Sarazen, two-time winner of the National Open, Sam Snead, Hot Springs (Va.), slugger who will play the 1946 Augusta Masters champion, Ralph Guldahl, champ in 1937 and 1938, Marvin (Bud) Ward, Spokane, Wash., former National amateur champion, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, hotshot amateur.

Barron put the contest on ice with a birdie four against Worsham's five on the 495-yard sixteenth.

Finishing second in the tournament meant $1,800 to Worsham.

Barron and Worsham tied Sunday at 277 after 72 holes.

Red Sox Wallop Indians, 6-3; Moore's Hit Nips Dodgers, 2-1

Butland Scores 1st Win of Year

BOSTON, June 11 (AP)—The Red Sox increased their string of undefeated starts against western opposition to 18 straight by giving righthander Bill Butland his first pitching triumph of the season, a 6-3 decision over the Indians before a 16,988 washday crowd. It was also the 11th game without setback during the current Fenway Park home stay.

Butland, who made one previous start and a few relief appearances without being recorded, clinched matters for himself by banging out a two-run single against reliever Ed Klieman in the sixth. He came to the plate after Bobby Doerr, Rudy York and Dom Dimaggio had connected safely.

York sent the Sockers on their way against starter Steve Gromek in the third by poling his seventh homer into the left-field screen.

Butland held the Indians scoreless until he weakened a bit in the seventh, when the Indians scored twice on Ken Keltner's single, Dutch Meyer's triple and manager Lou Boudreau's one-baser.

Mills Says Louis Must Win by KO

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Freddie Mills, British light heavyweight champion, said today on arrival here to see the Joe Louis-Billy Conn fight that Louis must knock out Conn early in the fight or lose to the challenger on points.

Flock Lead Cut To Two Games

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—Pinch-hitter Terry Moore's one-run single in the ninth broke up a tie ball game as the Cardinals won the first game of an important three-game series from the Dodgers, 3-2. The victory cut the Dodgers' lead to two games over the second-place Redbirds.

Relief-pitcher Ted Wilks was credited with the victory, having taken over in the ninth from Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, who went out for a pinch-hitter.

Kirby Higbe, first of four Brooklyn pitchers, worked well until the seventh, giving up two hits. But he showed signs of tiring when the Cards loaded the bases on a hit batsman and a pair of walks.

In the eighth, with two Redbirds on base, Higby was relieved by Hank Behrman. Harry Walker and Red Schoendienst were on first and second when Stan Musial singled to right and Red scored. Hugh Casey replaced Behrman and Enos Slaughter smacked a smoking grounder toward right field, forcing Musial at second as Harry Walker scored the tying run.

The Dodgers used three pinch-hitters in the ninth, but failed to score. Art Herring, who relieved Casey at the start of the inning, walked Bus Adams and Ken O'Dea sacrificed.

Marty Marion was purposely passed. Then Moore, batting for pitcher Ted Wilks, slammed a single past third base, scoring Adams with the winning run after two hours and 23 minutes of play.

Phils 9, Cubs 8

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—It took the Phillies to crack the Cubs' seven-game winning streak with a 9-8 victory in the opener of a four-game series.

Held hitless by Hank Borowy for seven innings, the Phillies broke out with four-run rallies in the eighth and ninth to win. They scored a run for every hit in the final two innings to chase Borowy for the ninth time in ten starts. It marked the third time in as many starts that Borowy folded in late innings.

With one out in the ninth, Emil Verban singled. Jimmy Wasdell's pinch grounder advanced him to second. Johnny Wyrostek walked and Roy Hughes' single scored Verban and sent Wyrostek to third.

Borowy was replaced by Russ Meers and Lou Novikoff batted for Ron Northey. The one-time Cub beat out a slow dribbler to Hack for a single, scoring Wyrostek.

Hiram Bithorn then took over from Meers. Frank McCormick greeted him with what proved the game-winning double, scoring Hughes and Bill Burich, running for Novikoff.

Reds 7, Giants 5

CINCINNATI, June 11 (AP)—A superb relief job by right-hander Bob Malloy enabled the Reds to whip the Giants, 7-5. The 28-year-old hurler came to the rescue in the fifth after Nate Andrews had almost blown a 6-2 lead.

The Giants rapped Andrews for three runs in the fifth to draw within one marker of a tie and had a potential tying run on base with two out when Malloy appeared and snuffed out the rally.

Buddy Kerr singled to begin the sixth but Babe Young hit into a double play and Malloy then set the Giants down in order for the rest of the route to chalk up his first victory of the year.

Braves 10, Pirates 5

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—The Braves cooled off the fifth-place aspirations of the Pirates by slugging out a 10-5 decision in the opener of their four-game series.

The Braves all but clinched the contest in the first four innings when they jumped on Preacher Roe for nine hits and seven runs and drove him from the box.

Ed Wright pitched one-hit ball for the Braves until the seventh. When the Pirates got to him for four hits and three runs he yielded to Bill Posedel in the eighth after giving up three more hits and one run. Wright got credit for the victory.

Murphy Claims Bucs Formed Club Union

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—Robert Murphy, labor relations director of the American Baseball Guild, declared the Pittsburgh Pirates management has in effect formed a company union in attempts to break the guild.

Murphy . . . keeps fighting

The husky baseball unionist filed a petition before the National Labor Relations Board here charging the club had:

1. URGED employees to deal with the management through a players' committee instead of through the guild.
2. ATTEMPTED to persuade employees, by oral statements, to cease membership in and activities in behalf of the guild.

Broken Jaw Ends Bartolo's Career

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—The fighting days of Sal Bartolo, Boston featherweight who suffered a broken jaw in losing his title bout with Willie Pep, are over, Dr. Vincent Nardiello said.

Bartolo, in St. Clare Hospital with jaws wired together, will be on a liquid diet for at least four weeks, said Nardiello.

"And because of the break, I would say his fighting days are over," the physician added.

A right to the jaw by Pep in the ninth was the blow that caused the injury, Bartolo said, but he carried on till the 12th before another right knocked him out.

Dutchman Wins

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 11 (AP)—A. L. Van Meergeren of The Netherlands beat L. J. Hare of Britain, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, in the first round of the men's singles of the Priory lawn tennis tournament.

Tigers 11, Yanks 3

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Behind the five-hit tossing of Virgil Trucks and two-run homers by Hank Greenberg and Jimmy Bloodworth, the Tigers trounced the Yankees, 11-3, to score their first victory in five meetings over the Yanks.

Trucks got off to a shaky start, allowing three hits in the first two frames, including a two-run circuit belt by Tommy Henrich in the opening inning, but the 27-year-old fireball artist then settled down and held the Yanks hitless until the ninth, when they collected their final run on two hits.

Scoring once in the first, the Tigers roared back after two were out in the third to score five runs. With one in and one on, Greenberg blasted his 13th homer of the year deep into the leftfield stands.

White Sox 3, A's 1

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (AP)—The White Sox, in their first appearance at Shibe Park since Ted Lyons replaced Jimmy Dykes as manager, nipped the Athletics, 3-1.

A triple by Luke Appling to left center with the score tied, 1-1, in the third with one out and Thurman Tucker on gave the Sox the lead they never relinquished.

Bill Dietrich scattered eight safeties to rack up his second victory of the year. The Mackmen scored their only run in the second on a base on balls to Gene Handley, successive singles by Jack Caulfield and Gene DeSautels, and a long fly by the losing pitcher, Jesse Flores.

Browns 2, Senators 1

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Joe Grace raced home from third on John Berardino's fly to Gerry Priddy in the ninth with the run that gave the Browns a 2-1 victory over the Senators.

Priddy made a brilliant running catch of Berardino's apparent Texas Leaguer with his back to the infield but could not reverse himself in time to throw to the plate for Grace.

As the Browns "little jinx" over the Senators held at three straight wins without loss this season, southpaw Sam Zoldak was returned as winner, although he allowed 11 hits to five yielded by Roger Wolff.

Republicans Demand Ouster of Umberto

King to Remain Until Justices OK Plebiscite

ROME, June 11 (AP)—A delegation representing six political parties which backed the republic in last week's plebiscite called on Premier Alcide de Gasperi today to demand that he meet King Umberto's refusal to abandon his throne by assuming immediately the powers of provisional president.

Simultaneously, Randolph Pacciardi, head of the Republic Party and spokesman for the group, called upon the Allies to clarify their position in the political impasse created by Umberto's view that the Supreme Court's announcement yesterday of the republic's victory in the plebiscite was "indefinite."

Meet Three Times

The delegation called at the Quirinale Palace as De Gasperi prepared to meet his ministers for the third time today in an effort to find a way out of the curious situation which found all Italy today celebrating the advent of a republic she was not so sure she had.

But because the justices said they still had to pass on monarchist

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—The Italian people and their new republic should be welcomed now into the United Nations, declared Gov. Tom Dewey, of New York, in a message read to a mass rally of 5,000, mostly Italo-American, in Madison Square Garden last night.

charges that there were irregularities in the voting, Umberto still was in his palace.

A royal house spokesman, Gen. Adolfo Infante, the king's aide, said shortly after midnight that the king "will not move" until the court has expressed itself definitely on the outcome of the referendum.

He said the judges "still will have many things to consider in their next session."

Consequently, Infante said, the king, instead of being on his way to exile in Portugal today, will stay around to await developments.

He spent three hours last night conferring with De Gasperi, who had said earlier, "Of course the republic is in effect."

Timberland Fire Razes 2,000 Acres

SAFFORM, Ariz., June 11 (UP)—A racing forest fire swept out of control here today after consuming 2,000 acres of timber and brush despite the efforts of 300 fire fighters.

Rugged terrain prevented the use of bulldozers and other mechanized equipment and prompted the firemen to try backfiring in the path of the flames.

The fire was started by lightning which struck the San Carlos Indian reservation and was able to spread rapidly because the area was extremely parched after a long drought.

U. S. Civilians to Pay 30-Cent Movie Admission

The Stars and Stripes Bureau

FRANKFURT, June 11—American and attached Allied civilian personnel in the ET will be required to pay an admission fee of 30 cents for motion picture houses showing 35mm films, Theater Special Services announced today.

The charge, which is expected to begin July 1, will be met through the sale of ticket books in Army post exchanges to qualified personnel. Previously, an announcement had been made establishing an admission fee of 15 cents for military personnel and their child dependents. American civilian personnel attending such performances may gain admittance upon presentation of AGO cards, while Allied personnel must be in uniform.

A Basket, a Tasket — 12 Eggs in a Basket

DALLAS, June 11 (INS)—Lightnin', and aged Negro who sacks eggs in a Dallas grocery, doesn't know how many eggs there are in a dozen, but he gets a dozen in each sack anyway. "I can count up to nine," said Lightnin', "then I just add three more eggs."

Attlee Aims at World Freedom

BOURNEMOUTH, June 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee told the annual Labor Party conference today that Great Britain's foreign policy was founded on the socialist concept of a peace based on economic prosperity and social justice.

"We seek to promote world peace by collective security," he declared. "We ask for others the freedom we claim for ourselves. We seek to put it into effect: witness India."

If India "will stay with us in the British Commonwealth," he added, "We shall welcome them. If they desire to go outside, we shall stretch out the hand of friendship to them."

His voice frequently quavering with emotion, Attlee reported to his party his stewardship of the government since labor's overwhelming defeat last summer of Winston Churchill's conservatives.

Of the government's program for state ownership of basic industries, the prime minister reported: "We are resolved to carry out the distinctive side of socialist policy—the policy of nationalization."

Attlee continued, "I can assure you we are planning ahead. We are planning for the work of the next session after this one and the next after that."

"There are other nationalization fish in the basket and they are not just minnows. There are some pretty big salmon amongst them."

The conference bucked at Arthur Greenwood's assertion that all is well with party propaganda and shoved through two resolutions urging both government information services and party publicity men to use "every available means" to combat conservative newspaper attacks and promote knowledge of the Socialist program.

The conference also passed unanimously a resolution calling for added recruitment of doctors for the proposed national health service by providing free education with maintenance for medical students.

Argentine Food To Help Crisis, Hoover Says

BUENOS AIRES, June 11 (AP)—Herbert Hoover said today that Argentinian and North American shipments of foodstuffs during the next three months should ease considerably the world's famine situation.

The former President told newspapermen that President Juan Peron had assured him that Argentina was taking vigorous steps to increase its fat and cereal exports, adding that Argentina shipped 600,000 tons of foodstuffs abroad in May.

Four Countries Can Help

Mr. Hoover said preliminary estimates put the needs of hungry areas for June, July and August, at 9,500,000 tons. He said all of this would have to come from the only four countries with movable surpluses—Argentina, Australia, Canada and the United States.

He said Argentina had surpluses of wheat, rye and maize, amounting to about three and one-half million tons. But, he added, a shortage of transport facilities might prevent shipment of a part of this quantity.

Deputies Draft Peace Report

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—The deputy foreign ministers of Russia, the United States, Britain and France today began drafting their report to the Foreign Ministers Council, an American official reported.

The report will be presented to the ministers on June 15 when they reconvene here for a continuation of the session which ended last month without agreement on essential points of peace treaties for Italy, the Balkan states and Finland. It will consist of draft texts for points on which the deputies have agreed and alternate texts on disputed issues.

The deputies today discussed nationality rights for residents of ceded areas, but failed to agree. The topic was referred back to the drafting committee for further study, American officials said.

Flossenberg Trial Of 52 Opens Today

The Stars and Stripes Bureau

DACHAU, June 11—Tomorrow morning 52 defendants will go on trial here on charges of having committed or sanctioned the inhuman treatment of inmates of the Nazi concentration camp at Flossenberg.

More than 200 former inmates are reported available to testify to conditions involving starvation, beatings, and general abuse prevalent in the notorious camp. Of the 52 defendants, 34 were members of the SS and were habitual criminals.

One was a Gestapo man who took over operation of the camp's work details and buildings after its status was changed from a labor camp for Nazi criminals to a detention center for political prisoners.

Ennis 'Poked' GI's Wounds, Witness Says

BAD NAUHEIM, June 11 (AP)—A former Lichfield guardhouse prisoner testified today he saw Lt. Leonard W. Ennis repeatedly ask prisoners where they had been wounded and then "poke" their wounds with his billy club.

This happened "ten or twelve times that I saw," said the witness, Mike Koblinsky, who still is serving a court martial sentence.

Ennis, is one of two officers now on trail on charges of cruelty to inmates of the U. S. Army guardhouse in Lichfield, Staffordshire, England, during the last year of the war.

Witness Refuses to Talk

In the trial of Lt. Granville Cubage, lawyers' attempts to ascertain Cubage's official responsibility over discipline of prisoners ran into frequent refusals of a witness to answer questions which he said "might tend to incriminate" him.

The witness was Capt. Joseph A. Robertson, who, although he is awaiting trial on cruelty charges, told the military court he has not yet been provided with defense counsel.

The prosecution cited Robertson's testimony in a previous trial in which he identified Cubage as prison officer and said "when he needed help in training and discipline of prisoners Lt. Ennis was called in."

Two other officers formerly at Lichfield testified they had seen no acts of cruelty there.

Unanimous action was taken after Secretary of State James F. Byrnes told the committee the change was needed to give Clayton a title befitting his responsibility in world economic affairs.

Jackson Says Black 'Bullied' Court

had been chosen before making his statement, Jackson said, for the reason that:

"I could not defend myself, even to the President, while the appointment of a Chief Justice was pending without being in the position of pleading for the post. That I would not do. Now that the appointment is made, I am free to answer and choose to do so, not by inspired innuendoes, but over my signature."

Most of Jackson's statement concerned circumstances attending decisions in the Jewel Ridge coal case, involving the fair labor standards act, in which a former law partner of Black, Crampton Harris, of Birmingham, Ala., was twice on the winning side by vote of Black in narrow decisions.

Harris represented the United Mine Workers on the issue of portal-to-portal pay.

While saying that he did not regard it a matter of "honor" that Black should have failed to disqualify himself, as justices often do in such situations Jackson did say that he considered it "a question as to sound judicial policy."

As to participation of justices in cases in which they may be said to be interested by professional or other association, Jackson put himself squarely on record:

"There may be those who think it quite harmless to encourage the employment of justices' ex-law partners to argue close cases by smothering the objections which the bar makes to this practice. But in my view, such an attitude would soon bring the court into disrepute."

"We do not sit like local judges where lawyers and litigants know our relationships and characters. Our lawyers and litigants are usually, except when appearing for the government, strangers, who know us only by publicity, by our work, and by appearances."

"However, innocent of the coincidence of these two victories at successive terms by Justice Black's former law partner, I wanted the practice stopped. If it is ever repeated while I am on the bench I will make my Jewel Ridge opinion look like a letter of recommendation by comparison."

When a rehearing for the Jewel Ridge case was asked, Jackson said that Black "became very angry and said that any opinion which discussed the subject (Black's participation) at all would mean a "declaration of war."

Jackson continued: "I told Justice Black in language that was sharp, but no different than I would use again, that I would not stand for any more of his bullying and that whatever I would otherwise do, I would now have to write my opinion to keep self-respect in the face of his threats."

"The chief justice (Stone) told me that at his age he did not want to be in the 'war' which was threatened and withdrew his proposed opinion and kept silent."

Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed both Black and Jackson to the court, the former in 1937 and the latter in 1941.
